

The Vaccarès Pond

The Vaccarès, from the Latin « vaccarum regio » (cattle country), is a vast expanse of salty water that covers 6,600 hectares (approximately 12 km x 7 km), one third of all the land covered by Camargue ponds. It is 1.5 meters deep, the deepest of all the Camargue ponds.

The Camargue National Preserve

The Camargue National Preserve was created in 1927 by the French National Society for Nature Protection, in order to protect plant and animal species. The Preserve covers 13,117 ha, of which a large part is occupied by the Vaccarès Pond. La Capelière is a tourist information center managed by the National Preserve. You will find there discovery trails, exhibitions, documents.

How to get there

- Arles : start from the Tourist Information Center, Boulevard des Lices

Leave the Arles Tourist Information Center 1. Turn left on the Boulevard des Lices, then right on Rue Gambetta toward Trinquetaille. Cross the Rhône River and follow signs to Les-Saintes-Maries-de-la-Mer. After 1 km, at the roundabout, take Route C108 toward Gimeaux. You will be on the GR653 hiking trail, marked by two red-and-white stripes.

After 2.5 km, you will arrive in Gimeaux 2. After 3 km at the Mas du Tort crossroads, turn left and go by the wooden arena in Gimeaux, then turn left immediately onto route C112, "Chemin de l'Ecole de Gimeaux" (you leave the GR trail), a one-way street. After 1 km turn right onto route D570 (⚠ dangerous road). Continue for 250 m, then turn left toward route C125 "Chemin de la Dougue" toward Bouchaud. Then take your second right onto C154 "Petit Chemin de Sainte-Cécile" 3. At the first crossroads, at the Mas de Pedassas, continue straight ahead toward the Vaccarès Pond (C128 – Mas d'Agon). At the crossroads 100 m after the Domaine de Sainte-Cécile, continue straight ahead toward the Vaccarès Pond.

1 km after this crossroads, notice the Jalabert ranch (Mas de la Chassagne) on your left. When you reach Route D37 4, turn right. After 250 m cross the road and stop at the foot of the Mas neuf du Vaccarès observation deck, built by the Camargue Regional Nature Park.

From the observation deck go back and then continue along Route D37 (⚠ heavy traffic). 700 m after the Mas Neuf du Vaccarès and 300 m before the Mas de Cabassole, at the end of the wide parking space along the roadside, a little trail on the right will take you to the pond.

At Villeneuve continue straight ahead (do not take Route C134) and in the curve 500m after the Restaurant "Chez Bob", take the little road on your left 5, Route C132 "Chemin de Roumieu". When you reach the Tour de Montmeillan crossroads, continue straight ahead. Then continue to the left on Route C133 "d'Azegat".

6 When you reach Route C130 "De Bouchaud à Gageron" (300m before the Mas de l'Ange) 7, turn left toward Gageron.

In Gageron continue straight ahead on Route C130; you will go by the church and the school. At the junction with Route C131 leading to Sainte-Cécile 8, continue straight ahead (right-hand road), then follow the signs toward Arles 9, until you reach Route D570. Go back to Arles via Gimeaux, following the same roads you took in the opposite direction coming out.
